

One-day Workshop Meeting, Tuesday 23rd May, 2006
Computable Macroeconomics Group
Department of Economics/CIFREM
University of Trento

Complex Dynamics in Economics and Finance

A one-day 'intensive' discussion-cum-seminar meeting of the Computable Macroeconomics research group will be held on Tuesday, 23rd May, 2006. A series of talks/lectures, and a concluding summary, will be given by Professors Barkley Rosser (James Madison University), Joe McCauley (University of Houston), Massimo Salzano (University of Salerno), Dr Marisa Faggini (University of Salerno) and Professor Marina V. Rosser, as follows:

Chairman of the Morning Sessions: Professor Enrico Zaninotto

1. 10.00: Professor K. Vela Velupillai: Introductory Remarks on 'Dynamics, Complexity and Computation'
2. 10.30: Professor Joe McCauley: Volatility, Value, Scaling, Correlations and Fat Tails
3. 11.15: Professor Massimo Salzano: A Heterogenous Agent's New-Keynesian Simulation: Some Policy Hints
4. 11. 45: Dr. Marisa Faggini: Chaos Direction in Economics: Metric vs. Topological Tools
5. 12.15: Professor Marina V. Rosser: Concluding Summary

(The above talks/seminars will be held at the CIFREM Seminar Room)

12.30: Lunch Break

16.30: J. Barkley Rosser: A Concatenation of Economic Complexities
(Department of Economics/CIFREM: CIFREM Seminar Room)